

Moretime

Moretime - A natural step

Outsourcing certain functions is standard practice today. Freight, cleaning and IT operation, for example, are commonly contracted out to partners. We believe this should also include your accounting administration. The basis for our assumption is simple: it is a concept we have pursued successfully for several years, and have accumulated many satisfied customers along the way.

Wealth of advantages

There is a wealth of advantages with outsourcing your accounting administration. You get access to a complete accounting department but only pay for the services you use. You will no longer have to worry about staff absenteeism, having to purchase costly accounting systems, etc. It will leave you free to concentrate on your core operations.

Our services

We guarantee that outsourcing your accounting administration will give you many advantages. Here are just some of our services.

- Running accounts
- Invoicing
- Suppliers' payments
- Payment monitoring/reminder routines
- Liquidity management
- Monthly reports
- Tax returns
- Annual accounting
- Annual reports
- Statistics
- Payroll administration

How does it work in practice?

We act as an external accounting department – taking care of everything from your accounting, invoicing and salaries to your annual accounts. And we make sure that you receive your reports and decision support material on time. In other words, our job is ensuring your peace of mind.

Moretime – one step ahead

It has always been important for us to be at the forefront of our business. We achieve this, among other things, by working with modern systems and efficient routines. You, the customer, will always be secure in the knowledge that our work methods are efficient and maintain the highest quality.

We tailor our services to your requirements. For instance, we provide online access to your financial reports via our website: www.moretime.se